Business Manager Leaves; Will Be Navy Lieutenant

Ervin J. Kreischer, business manager of the University since 1937, who is entering the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.), will be replaced by Herman Geiser, formerly employed by the office of the State Architect.

Mr. Kreischer, on leave of absence for the duration of the war, will report for training as a Supply Corps Volunteer Specialist at Babson School, Wellesley, Mass., Jan. 17, subject to a final active duty examination.

Mr. Geiser will continue at the University after the war as supervisor of buildings.

A graduate of Bowling Green in 1930, Mr. Kreischer has taken graduate work at Ohio State and the University of Toledo. He taught at Fostoria High School before becoming business manager here.

As a student, he was member of Quill Type, Five Brothers fraternity, and the Varsity Club, and business manager of the Key.

Mrs. Kreischer and their two children will remain in Bowling Green.

E. J. KREISCHER

Ervin J. Kreischer, business manager since 1937, will leave the campus for the duration to be a lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy. He will train at Babson School, Wellesley, Mass.

Art Students Entertain

Art students will stage a public Christmas exhibit in the form of an Open House Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Men's Gymnasium. There will be a tea from 4 to 6 p.m.

The work for the exhibit has been done by art students during the semester. Following a custom started last year the department will present several works to different campus offices.

A still life in oil by Phyllis Gold will be presented for Dr. Frank J. Prout's office; water color landscape by Mary Lou Witt for Dr. Clyde Hissong's office; water color design by Dorothy Bishop for Dean Audrey Kenyon Wilder's office.

If the pictures can be framed in time they will be on display all day and will be presented at the tea hour.

Last year a landscape, in water color, was placed in Dr. Prout's office where it now hangs over the fireplace. The picture was painted by Ethel Grover.

Lib. Will Open For Servicemen

The Library will remain open during Christmas vacation as long as the Naval units on the campus are having classes, according to Dr. Paul F. Leedy, library head. During the Thanksgiving vacation the Library was open its usual hours offering the men the same service as always.

In dealing with the Navy's needs and wants in reading material the Library has added a great number of scientific books. The staff has found that in extra curricular reading the men prefer light fiction, drama, books on the war and on the post war plans.

A study room has been provided on the first floor which offers the service men smoking privileges.

Students Voice Opinions On New Schedule Change

By JOAN WHITACRE

On March 1, 1944, the University schedule change will go into effect, and students as well as Navy men will operate on the Navy program. In order to accomplish this change, it was necessary to add an unscheduled vacation in February to the civilian program.

How do students feel about the University schedule change? Here are a few of the typical replies made to this question by a few University students:

Marjorie Armstrong, freshman: I don't like it. There aren't enough vacations. Golly, we'll only get ten days next year at Christmas.

Marge Hamann, freshman: It will make the summer too short. The summer jobs will all be taken over by high school students by the time our vacation begins. I'd rather go to school in the fall, winter, and spring than in the summer.

Adelaide Saint, senior: I'm in favor of the new schedule because it throws you on the three semester plan so you can finish school more quickly. It's a more concentrated plan, which I think is a good idea during wartime, although I wouldn't be in favor of it in peace time. As for vacations, I'd rather have one long one than a lot of short cut-up ones.

John Chambers, freshman: The new schedule will mean harder work, but I think it's a good idea because it enables students to get their credits faster.

Jean Newman, freshman: I do wish the change had been arranged at the beginning of the year. It necessitates too much of an upheaval in our personal schedules. It is very hard to go back and forth from home to University and still keep in a scholarly mood. It is hard to leave classes for such long periods of time and still maintain a good average—especially when you're trying to raise the thing.

Dorothy Secor, Mr. Bunn's secretary: The change in programs accommodates the office force greatly.

B. G. Debates Denison

AS Richard Conn and AS John Henry Wilson, representing Bowling Green, will uphold the negative side of a debate proposition against Robert Dornfield and Pvt. John Gripe of Denison University. The debate will begin at 7:30 tonight in Studio B of the Practical Arts Building.

Prof. Elden T. Smith will introduce the proposition, Resolved: That the United States should co-operate in establishing and maintaining an international police force upon the defeat of the Axis.

Following the debate the audience will participate in a discussion on the proposition and thereupon cast ballot pro or con.

Bowling Green won nine and lost five debates at John Carroll University in Cleveland Saturday. Colleges represented were Case, John Carroll, Youngstown, Notre Dame, Findlay, Oberlin, Wooster, Baldwin-Wallace, Kent, and Bowling Green.

Richard Conn and John H. Wilson represented Bowling Green's varsity affirmative team and Marilyn Smith and Virginia Keller, varsity negative team. Novice affirmative was Aurelia Christea and Betty Ruth Krabel and negative, Kathleen Price and Mary Ann Koeppe.

Voting On New Council Rules Takes Place Today, Says Klein

Students are urged to vote today on the new student council rules which have been comprised by a committee of University students, according to Ralph Klein, acting Council president.

There has been no acting student council since the beginning of the semester when none of the officers elected last year returned.

If the new council passes the vote of the student body, it will go into effect immediately. The suggested rules are printed in full below:

The new constitution must be ratified by student vote. The entire new plan is as follows:

Article I NAME

This association shall be called the Student Council of Bowling Green State University.

Article II AUTHORITY

All students registered in Bowling Green State University shall be subject to the regulations of the Student Council.

Article III

Section 1. The Student Council shall be composed of twenty members, as follows:

- (a) The president from each class.
- (b) One representative from the graduate students.
- (c) Chairmen of residences of 100 or more students.
- (d) The chairman of publications.
- (e) The chairman of the Social Committee.
- (f) One member of the Social Committee.
- (g) The Editor of the Bee Gee

News.

- (h) The Editor of the Key.
 - (i) The president of the WSGA.
 - (j) The president of the WAA.
 - (k) The president of the Hellenic Council.
 - (l) The president of the YWC.
 - (m) The president of the YMC.
 - (n) The president of the Men's Union.
 - (o) The president of the Inter Fraternity Council.
- Section 2. There will be three faculty advisors chosen by the President of the University.
- Section 3. General powers:
- (a) To exercise a general supervision over student activities, organizations, traditions, and customs.
 - (b) To provide legislation to make such general supervision effective.
 - (c) To constitute a first court of appeal in matters legitimately arising under the jurisdiction of the Student Council. The Administration shall serve as a final court of appeal.
- Section 4. The powers and duties of the Student Council shall be legislative, executive, and judicial.
- Section 5. Specific powers and duties:
- (a) To receive and act upon

Prout Tells Of Calendar Shift

President Frank J. Prout announced Friday that there will be a change in the calendar of the 1944 University Catalogue.

Changes will include a speeded up student and Navy program which will continue for the duration. This change is being made in order to make all courses listed in the catalogue available to every student.

The new program will include three 16 week terms. The second one beginning February 28 and ending June 21. The third term will begin July 1 and continue through the summer until November 1.

New University Catalogues will be out March 1, 1944.

William Rohweder, Navy: It will probably save a lot of time and effort for the faculty and make things much easier for them.

Mary Helen Jaynes, junior: I think it's a very good idea, and should have been adopted in September instead of waiting this long. The new system will avoid a lot of confusion.

Same Schedule For Civilians And V-12's, Dr. Prout Says

Civilians at the University will be on the same schedule as V-12 students beginning next semester, according to Dr. Frank J. Prout, president.

The revised calendar of college classes was adopted to "enrich the offerings for both civilian and service students."

The second semester of the 1943-44 year will open at a later date than previously scheduled to permit coordination with the Navy and Marine V-12 program.

There will be three terms in the school year called "trimesters." They will begin Feb. 28, July 1, and Nov. 1, the same time as the Navy terms.

Freshmen may enroll in any of the trimesters.

This "duration calendar" will permit students who attend all three terms each year to complete four academic years in 32 months. It will also permit students to be employed for four full months during the summer vacation, thereby aiding war work.

The summer school will be divided into two periods so that students may attend school both or only one of the eight-week terms.

The present semester will be 19 weeks long instead of the scheduled 18. The second "trimester" will be only 17 weeks. Commencement will be June 21.

Prouts Are Host At 'Y' Silver Tea

President and Mrs. Frank J. Prout entertained students and faculty Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. at the annual YM-YW Silver Tea given in their home.

The tea which has been given for five years has become one of Bowling Green's loveliest and most worthy traditions. The silver coins that are donated at the tea are used to send YWCA delegates to the annual conference.

The house was decorated with flowers. There were red candles and Christmas greens on the table.

Treble Clef Club Presents Christmas Concert Friday

The Treble Clef, under the direction of Dr. James Paul Kennedy, will present a Christmas program Friday evening at 8:15 p.m. in the University Auditorium.

A group of sacred songs will be sung: "In Monte Oliveti" by Arcadelt, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Jehovah" by Bach, and "Prayer" by Mascagni. Miss Myrtle Jensen will accompany the first Bach Handel.

Several choral readings will be given throughout the program by choir.

The vested choir will sing a few Christmas carols, "Carol of the Bells" by Leontovich, "There's a Song in the Air" by Harrington, "O, Holy Night" by Adams, solo by Betty Hamler, and "Silent Night", solo by Jean Olewiler, accompanied by the choir.

"Let My Song Fill Your Heart", a Viennese waltz will be one of the secular numbers sung. Others to be included are, "Say a Prayer" by McHugh, solo by Pence, and "Sparkling Sunlight" a waltz by Luigi Arditi.

A series of numbers from the opera "Carmen" will be sung by the group. They include "The Gypsy Song", "The Street Song", "Sequidilla", and the "Toreadore Song" accompanied by Simon Oppenhuizen.

Between the choir numbers, Simon Oppenhuizen will sing "I Attempt From Love's Sickness to Fly" Puccini, "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg and "Old Mother Hubbard" by Hutchinson in the style of

I-F Plans Formal For All Students

"Just to show that the fraternities are still alive and kicking," the Inter-Fraternity Council is planning a semi-formal, all-campus dance to be given soon after Christmas. It will be held in the recreation hall, and the four fraternities will divide the expenses.

These plans were made at an informal meeting in Dean Conklin's office December 1. The representatives also discussed rules and the grades of the various pledges. They considered the possibilities of nationalization for the two local fraternities, and this is being encouraged.

They decided that "Fraternities are still on campus and will always be, in spite of the war," Ralph Klein, president, reported.

Organ Recital Will Be Friday

The first student organ recital of the year will be presented in the Administration Building Auditorium Friday afternoon at 3 p.m.

"Prelude and Fugue in D" by Handel and "Prayer" written by Guilford will be played by Wilma Brewer. Dorothy Boozer will play "Gesu Bambina" by Yon.

"Prelude and Sarabande" by Corelli, and "Pastorale" from "Le Prologue de Jesus," traditional arrangement by Clokey, will be played by Ruth Morrison. Alice Walbolt will play "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach; Betty Hamler, "The Lost Chord" written by Sullivan, and Olga Sonkoy, "A Christmas Cradle Song," traditional Bohemian by Bach, and "Tocatta in D Minor".

There may also be a few voice and piano selections.

Club Holds Annual Affair

The Treble Clef had its annual fall breakfast at the Woman's Club Sunday.

Committees appointed by Ione Geisel, president of the organization, were: invitations, Marjorie Busdicker, Betty Hazelwood; arrangements, Jean Hanni, Marge Hartsook; program, Hilda Mehning, Nancy Williamson, Jane Arthur; decorations, Betty Weaver, Norma Stein, Miriam Organ, and Janice Small.

Recess Starts December 15

Christmas recess for civilian students, beginning Dec. 15, will end Jan. 5, thus permitting students to travel in the middle of the week period when public transportation is least crowded.

This revised vacation period will permit "closer cooperation with suggestions of the Office of Defense Transportation" and will lengthen the holiday.

Naval and Marine V-12 students will leave the campus Dec. 23 and will resume classes Jan. 3, according to Lieut. Russell Ferguson, executive officer.

Naval V-5 cadets will probably have only Christmas day free, Lieut. Robert E. Jones announced.

The Christmas recess was lengthened and a second vacation planned for February so that the civilian students can start a new term at the same time as V-12 students.

Broadcasters Give 'Overdue'

"Overdue," an original drama written by Joe Nordmann, who graduated last June, was the second in a series of radio broadcasts over station WFIN, Findlay. The broadcast took place last Saturday at 3:05 p.m. in the University auditorium.

The cast included the following students:

Ione Geisel, L'Jane Kiplinger, Ella Vaughan, Patricia Eagy, Dorine Stouffer, Ralph Klein, and Pvt. James Warrick.

Janice Smith and Betty Paxton were in charge of music; Olen Dunlop, announcer; Marie Powell and Leila Brock, sound.

Faculty Pix Are Taken Now

Individual pictures of faculty members for the Key are being taken by appointment now, according to Lois Ferris, editor.

Faculty members whose pictures have not been taken should contact the Key staff.

Ninety-four per cent of the enrolled V-12 students are buying war bonds. Approximately 15 per cent of the total pay roll of this unit goes for war bonds, according to Capt. Joseph Anastasio, Marine detachment head.

It is interesting to note that these students are spending both their time and money for the war effort.

Handel's Messiah To Be Sung Sunday Evening At 8:15

The Messiah, most famous of all the oratorios by George Frederick Handel, will be presented in the university auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Sunday according to Prof. Merrill C. McEwen, director of the music department.

Guest soloists will be Eleanor Starkey of New York, soprano; May Barron from Chicago, contralto; Carlton Eldridge of Lansing, Mich., tenor; and Hardin Van Deursen of Ann Arbor, bass.

Assisting them will be a chorus of 125 voices, made up of university students, including service men, faculty members, and citizens of Bowling Green. A few men from near-by communities are also appearing in the chorus on an exchange basis with Bowling Green.

The orchestra will be comprised of members of the Toledo Symphony, who are being rehearsed in Toledo.

The soprano soloist, Eleanor Starkey, has had, during her career, the aid of Galli-Curci and Madame Louise Homer. She is now a well-known concert, opera, and radio singer.

Contralto, May Barron is a member of the Chicago Opera Company and has studied and sung in opera companies throughout the United States and Europe.

Without sight since early childhood, tenor Carlton Eldridge is a musician of the middle west and has made most of his appearances in Michigan, on radio and church programs.

Returning this year after several performances in Bowling Green, Hardin Van Deursen is one of the most popular bass soloists to appear on the campus. He has been called back this year by popular request.

Members of the 125-voice chorus are:

Soprano: Laura Jane Ash, Dorothy A. Ashbrook, Velma Bisher, Katherine Bonfiglio, Dorothy

PROF. M. E. McEWEN

Prof. Merrill E. McEwen will wield the baton Sunday when service men, civilian students, and townspeople join together to sing the annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

two seats
on the aisle

By PAT WHALEN

A twentieth century renaissance in the Bowling Green-Toledo theater area is making itself felt in the revival of interest in artistic events—ballet, drama, concerts, and choral singing. It is not just "long-hair" stuff, but truly fine entertainment enjoyably presented.

Second in a series sponsored by Toledo's Flora Ward Hine, the Russian Ballet Theatre thrilled the audience with its Monday night performance at the Paramount theater, from the socks and saddle shoes in the dollar balcony seats to the soup-and-fish clad three dollar front rowers. It was a spectacle well worth the precious two dollars which your reviewer and several other students from our campus splurged for balcony seats.

Ballet, an emotion in motion! Flashing colors, a swirl of costumes moving to beautiful music against a bright background. Three ballets blazoned the evening's program. A gay, romantic boy and girl story in a 1900 setting was "Dim Luster," set to the music of Richard Strauss. "Swan Lake," by Anton Dolin, premiere danseur of the company, possessed the glittering grace of the classic ballet, and offered the superb music of Tchaikowsky. From the opera of the great Russian nationalist, Mossourgsky, "Fair at Sorochnik," was the third story set to music.

Two recent free concerts in the Museum series now being offered in Toledo, were not only of excellent quality but were received with such enthusiasm that tickets were as rare as ration stamps. The Budapest String Quartet, while clearly a classical offering, played to a packed house. Tickets were cleaned out weeks in advance for the afternoon and evening performances of the world famous Swiss folk singers, the Trapp family.

Right on our own campus two splendid attractions are being given in the short week and a half until Christmas vacation. Treble Clef will present a concert under the direction of Dr. James Paul Kennedy on Friday, and the Messiah, directed by Prof. M. C. McEwen, will again be offered by a group of more than 100 voices Sunday.

The annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" has felt the influence of the war also. Service men from the Navy V-12 unit are keeping the percentage of male voices almost up to last year's level. Participating in the oratorio along with the service men and students will be members of the faculty and towns people some of the latter having taken part in this traditional Christmas song service for the past 25 years.

Prof., Four Coed Passengers
Are On Wrecked Ambassador

Five persons from Bowling Green State University were passengers on the Ambassador Limited which figured in a three-train wreck near Newton Falls, Ohio November 24. Only one of the five was injured.

The five were Miss Nellie Ogle of the business education department, Terry Hodgkins, Sarajane Canway, Alice Cadwell, and Josephine True. Miss True, the only one injured, was riding in the first coach which was damaged the worst.

The accident occurred at 10:10 p.m. when a Pennsylvania freight train, which uses B. & O. tracks in that area, plowed into the rear of a B. & O. freight on a siding, derailing the Pennsylvania engine and throwing it into the path of the Ambassador on the main track.

Sarajane Canway, who was riding in the second car, described the accident like this:

"I first heard the compression of air from the air brakes as the train started to slow down. Then I heard the first car piling up and then I felt ours. Our car was turned to a 45 degree angle. Suitcases flew from the racks down onto the passengers. Many passengers were thrown from their seats clear across the aisle.

"When I opened my eyes all I could see was steam and smoke; this scared everyone for they all thought of an explosion. A serviceman stood up and told us to keep our heads. When the steam began to clear we stood in the leaning aisle and stuck our heads out of the window—the glass was completely shattered away. At one side I could see the caboose burning and in the other direction I could see the first coach lying on its side.

"Everyone was covered with the mud that came through the windows and shattered glass was everywhere. They brought the badly injured from the first coach through our car to get them out and there were some badly bleeding people cut by the flying glass."

Rosie The Riveter Conditions
For Hetic Christmas Shopping

By JEAN NEWMAN

She has worked in her Victory garden all summer. She is a riveter, and she has an aunt who is a welder. She still retains touches of that "hale and hearty" tan about her ears. She won't admit it, but this is HER moment.

For the past year she has been getting in condition. She has listened dutifully to vitamin advertisements. She has eaten her whole wheat bread and turnip squash without a squibble. She has snubbed the snooty omnibus and trudged those three miles home from work every single night.

No, she wouldn't tell for the world, but she developed those muscles for a purpose. She doesn't even grimace when she breaks her faithful piggy bank. She takes it apart with her bare hands. She is prepared. Let them come!

Monday morn she will devote to Christmas shopping and pinch her way to the counters with the best of em'. It is a little tuffer than she thought. Oh, well, purchase: 1 box tinsel, one string lights—3 smashed bulbs.

Let her see, hummmm. She contemplates the 5-&-everything-on-up. Those greeting cards must be sent out. You can get perfectly deceiving ones in here for only a nickel. There are finances, you know. It appears that the greater population of the city also is considering finances. She will have to be firm.—"Don't give any ground, old girl. What did you develop those shoulder muscles for? Stand your base. Jui-jitsu would come in handy."

She hugs her purse in imitation of her favorite football hero and dives in. Touchdown! She can grip and ledge now and grab the salesgirl by the hair as she rushes by, if need be.

It seems the clerk has ideas of her own, too, as she calls signals to her chum down the aisle, while fragile merchandise skims high above the angry crowd!

Our heroine decides not even friends are worth it, and crawls out.

Tuesday is a perfect day. Everything will be so quiet. She dons her papa's air-raid warden helmet, ties his faithful billy club (in case the woman in front of her gets hysterical) firmly about her wrist, dons a chest protector, and snaps on her kid brother's catcher's mask.—Not that she is afraid of waking up on the Christmas casualty list; her insurance premiums haven't been kept up to date.

And for those lovely ties for papa. All the stripes turned out to be strips. Mama will be so happy with her silk stockings. Somebody whispered that they were actually a pair of nylons, but by the time she and 50 other women got through with them, they were a mesh.

At long last, the toy department. The little boy who has knocked the stuffing from his teddy bear glares at her apprehensively. He swings that baseball bat low,—and it's a hit.

The family doctor says she will be perfectly healthy again in 3 days, which leaves her one day to do her Christmas shopping. She is very happy about that. She is disgusted with herself on one point. She forgot her shin guards.

the editor's mail

Dear Editor,

Please explain your editorial of November 10, 1943 where is stated under the title, "A Student Government" that "student council ordinarily means government by the students. In the past it has not functioned in this way on our campus."

It seems to me definitely to be a reflection of the past and I'd hate to have this year's freshmen misled as to its past activities on our campus.

Sincerely yours,
Blaine T. Ebert

Editor's Note: Upon reading the letter from Blaine Ebert, Ralph Klein, acting president of the Student Council requested that he be allowed to answer that letter. The following is his answer to Blaine's letter printed in the next column:

Dear Blaine,
Please do not interpret the new Constitution as being derogatory to Student Councils in the past, especially the one under your administration.

But you know yourself that the old Constitution had many faults.

STEALTHY STUDENTS...

Now you can't tell me that Sonkoly, Falkner and Ottgen didn't know that Professor Allen was in his office even at ten minutes after the hour when they could even hear him talking... Maybe that's why they were so good natured when he called them back to class (did you have to run down those stairs, girls?)

AND THEN...

There was the professor who became angry when his class left at 12 after, because he said that his hat on the chair was the same as his being there... and then the next day threatened to give a test to the classroom of hats he found at eleven minutes after the hour.

WISHFUL THINKING...

Wouldn't it be nice sometime if we could lean over to take a drink of good ole aqua pura and actually find the drinking fountain clean? Could something be done maybe, hm.

SUBLIME TO THE SAD...

Here's hoping all our little freshmen rushees are prepared for the shock of descending from the throne of an honored rushee to the pitiful state of a pledge—it's a long leap from sipping cokes to cleaning rooms.

TRUE BLUE JO...

If the column seems a little weak, a cheery word to Jo True at 111 East Tiffin Street, Willard, Ohio will bring an awfully essential part of the staff back a little sooner... we hope she comes back soon, and not by train.

A CHEERY WELCOME TO...

Ibbets McClain Dunipace who brings cheery news from hubby Dick... the Spelman's, Jack and Marilyn, one more BG couple who will return together for that big Homecoming after the war... Al Adelman who mentions anyone is lucky who doesn't have four years of college in the army these days... "Zombie" Lockwood who dropped in on his way back from Fostoria to have a look-see at the old stamping grounds.

HATS OFF TO...

Our basketball team. Swell job, Falcons... the cast of "Personal Appearance." Excellent performance!

WILL SOMEBODY PLEASE...

Return the sailor's hat they appropriated at the Delta Gamma Deck Dance the other night to Marilynn Johnston, 8423 Delta Gamma? It's a momento from a friend and has sentimental value.

WE SIGH...

And then there is the sailor at the Toledo Naval basketball game who seemed disturbed by the whistles and yells which arose from the feminine gallery when Sid Otten came on the floor... In a loud mumble, the kid capily remarked, "The way they're acting you'd think he were Frank Sinatra."

camp to campus

Lt. Paul Ladd has been missing in action in the Pacific area since November 20. The bomber Lt. Ladd was piloting failed to return after a bombing mission. He graduated from the University in 1941 and was a member of the Men's Glee Club and the Delhi fraternity.

Sgt. Glenn Whitacre has successfully completed the Flexible Aerial Gunnery course at the Laredo Army Air Field, Texas. Upon graduation, in addition to other ratings, he received his Aerial Gunner's wings. He is now eligible to assume a position on a combat crew and is fully qualified to aid in the gunnery training program. Sgt. Whitacre is now in Bowling Green and will remain here until December 10 when he will report to his new station at Salt Lake City, Utah.

Lt. Jack Moore, of the United States Army, is in the general hospital at Denver, Colorado.

Allen Davidson has received a commission as second lieutenant in the Army Sanitary Corps. Before entering the Army Lt. Davidson was an assistant instructor in the Botany and Biology department. He is now stationed at Camp Stoneman, California.

Ralph Engle was commissioned a Lieutenant (jg) in the Naval Reserve on November 22. He received his boot training at Great Lakes, and attended primary radio school at Texas A & M. Upon completion of his course he was retained as an instructor.

A/C Doyle Smith, an upperclassman in advanced flying school, will receive his wings on January 7. His address is Class 44 A-AAAF, Altus, Oklahoma.

Pvt. Ted Brown is now stationed in Italy. Formerly he was in North Africa. The next is an excerpt from a letter he wrote to Dr. McCain. "While in North Africa, I got to visit the much talked of Casablanca. It certainly was a picturesque city with its narrow streets, sidewalk cafes, old cathedrals, and Arabs, camels, and funny little carriages. To me, Italy is much more pleasing and her people much more friendly. The one city I visited was quite something to view, the bombings were much in evidence, it was possible to picture what it was like before... Coffee here is a beverage to be sipped, not drunk rapidly as is the American custom."

Ned Amos is an aviation student at the Utah State Agriculture College, Logan, Utah.

Among his other duties, Sgt. Elmer Brown seems to find ample time to write to his friends at the University. He is still in England. While there he is planning to attend Peterhouse, a branch of Cambridge University. Sgt. Brown has seen various English plays and he states that the English theater is badly in need of a director such as Professor Smith.

Walt Blatteric and Bill Kerruish were seen on campus this past week.

Paul Whitman, Beta Gamma Upsilon, and John Phillips, Five Brother, are attending Midshipman's School at Northwestern University. They are staying at Abbott Hall.

The Team Needs Those Cheers...

With basketball season we again face the problem of the student cheering section.

The cheer leaders have requested that the student body show some enthusiasm at the games. However little we realize it, cheering is still a major factor in keeping the team in good spirit.

If you are not satisfied with the cheers that have been used in the past, why not write out some new cheers and give them to Norman Knisely, head cheer leader? In this way you can help the entire student body.

Let's make the gym resound!—PS

Vote For The New Council Rules...

Voting is a privilege that each of us should take advantage of. It gives us an opportunity to express our opinion of the question at hand.

Today is another voting day at Bowling Green. It is the most important election this year—the adoption of a new student council. The new rules which you will vote on today have been made by students who realized the need for a new, more efficient, a working student council.

Exercise your privilege today and vote for the new student government rules.—PS

That Applause Helps...

A play cast works every night for several weeks—hard work, too—rehearsing so that they can give a finished performance to University audiences for two short nights. And, then, when the final curtain is pulled if they are lucky they get two or three curtain calls.

Of course, you liked the play, but the meager applause certainly did not show it. In other college theatres even a poor production rates seven or eight curtain calls, but at Bowling Green half of the audience is out the door as soon as the play ends.

The glory of an actress or actor is small, and applause at the end of a performance means a great deal. So, in the future, let's stay seated and show the cast that we appreciated their efforts, instead of dashing out of the auditorium for the Nest.—PS

Thanks For A Grand Time...

Congratulations to the women of the Women's Building for the grand formal last week-end.

Everything from the beautifully decorated Gym to the well managed program of smooth music was perfect!

Falcons Open 24-Game Cage Schedule With Victory

Sid Otten Is High Point Man In Tilt With Toledo Quintet

Bowling Green and Coach Harold Anderson started off another season of basketball with a 64 to 42 win over the Toledo Naval Training Station.

The team continued at the point a minute record average which the team set last year. At no time throughout the game were the Falcons seriously threatened. Bee Gee had a 14 to 2 lead before the visitors were able to count with a field goal. That wasn't accomplished until six minutes of playing time had elapsed.

Big Sid Otten was the main cog in the game last Thursday, scoring 18 points. Not only did he make points, but he kept them from being made. His towering height made it quite difficult for the Toledo outfit to score on their long shots.

Falcon Feathers

That ear splitting voice rooting for the Falcons during the Toledo game belonged to Pvt. Walt Blateric, guard of the '42-'43 Falcons. Walt is on furlough from the Tank Battalion at Ft. Knox, Kentucky. Walt was one of the freshman stars on last year's team after starring at Akron Central high school.

Pvt. Blateric says, "I like the looks of the team and wish I was playing with them. Good luck to Coach Anderson and his team for a successful season."

Sid "Goalie" Otten began where he left off last season by stopping five Toledo potential scoring shots before they got to the basket. He batted eight other shots away from the backboard.

Referee Cooke had quite a time getting the ball high enough when Sid Otten was called for a jump ball.

Seems that quite a few of the boys on the Brown team in the preliminary game lost some high bets on the outcome of their game. Better luck next time fellows.

Congratulations to Sid Otten for making those foul shots. That was a weak spot of his last season.

Consolations to Captain Joe Siegfert for just missing shots by inches. He hit the rim all right but the basket wasn't in the right place.

Come on you freshmen girls and support the team. Basketball is our favorite sport here, therefore I would like to see more of you at the games. Remember the game tomorrow night.

Joe Siegfert was the second high scorer of the evening with 9 points followed by Lyons and Martin with 8 points each. Pantanelli was the other starter and he rang up 5 points.

Severin, a veteran of last season on the Toledo team, did the most scoring. He garnered 13 points while Williams of the same team got 10.

An interesting note on the game: After the first six minutes of play, the scoring became more even. From that time on, the score was 40 to 38. The half time score was time score was 31 to 19. Bee Gee does not depend on one man for all its points as is shown by the fact that eleven men figured in on the scoring.

Ohio's mythical all-collegiate grid team, published last week by two news syndicates, finds four Bowling Green V-12's in the first line-up. Captain Wayne Bordner, end, Art Mergenthal, tackle, and quarterback Al DiMarco were chosen by the International News Service experts. End Don Mohr and guard Don Harris placed on the second squad. The United Press honored Mergenthal and Mohr, while Bordner and DiMarco were picked as alternates.

If athletic officials can scrape up enough swimming opponents, newly appointed coach Jim Warrick will be ready with not a too formidable team. In the absence of a regular instructor this likable Marine senior has assumed the job of preparing some 15 candidates for a "maybe, maybe-not" season. As a mentor, Jim's 22 years belie his experience. A former Notre Dame, Goshen College, and North Central Illinois student, Jim served two terms as swim tutor in the latter school.

Bunker Hill's Naval Air Station team who snapped Bowling Green's early season four game winning streak still remains among the nation's few unbeaten, untied grid elevens . . . An Illinois high school halfback recently scored 16 touchdowns in a single game which his team won, 188-0 . . . and Francis Schmidt was panned for "showing no mercy" every time he allowed his Ohio State boys to actually dig into their opponents . . . Bee Gee's basketball stock, valued at an all time high last July 1, has skidded several points in recent months with the transfer of more than an established star . . . Marine Ed Lonjak held down a backfield berth on Cleveland's all scholastic eleven during his junior and senior years . . . Frankly speaking . . . the nation's headlines; Franks-Roosevelt, Sinkwich, and Sinatra . . . the swimmer, the swirler, and the swooner . . . couldn't think of one for Mr. Leahy . . . Girls Basketball Is In Full Swing

The coming of colder weather turns co-eds thoughts to indoor sports, and the swing is to basketball this quarter. Two basketball leagues were formed and a Round Robin Tournament will be played by each league; then a final inter-league game will bring the tournament to a close.

There are five teams in the Monday and Wednesday League, captains and managers are as follows: Team I—June Smith and Jane Rothie, Team II—Thelma Vauter and Barbara Wolcott, Team III—Clara Miller and Katie Lou Snyder, Team IV—Mary Mead and Sally Walters, Team V—Leslie Garvin and Wilma Holzhauser. Captains and managers of the Tuesday and Thursday League are: Team I—Harriett Sun and Dorothy Luedtke, Team II—Bonny

Sawyer, Team III—Madalene Batcha and Shirley Guscott, Team IV Viola Henke and Elizabeth Zimpher.

Officials are: Ethel Grover, Lois Kocklaun, Virginia Smith, and Jean Watt. Basketball is under the direction of Miss Carolyn Shaw.

Modern Dance Club
Barbara Burridge was elected head of the Modern Dance Club with Phyllis Gold as assistant. Miss Emily Hartman states that nearly 20 girls have shown interest in the club, and that they plan to have a spring recital. At this recital members will present their original compositions. They also plan to sponsor a professional Modern Dance Group on campus, which will be open to college students.

Badminton Club
The Badminton Club will meet Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., in the Woman's Gym. Officers of the Club are: president, Carol Lowman; secretary and treasurer, Dorothy Daso. Meetings will be held every Monday night and all girls who have had previous experience are invited to attend.

Table Tennis Club
There will be a meeting of the Table Tennis Club, Monday evening at 6:30 p.m., in the Woman's Gym. Anyone interested in joining can try out then.

Fort Hayes Cagers Are Guests Tomorrow On The Home Court

Carrying a full schedule of 24 games the Falcon cagers will encounter their fourth quintet here on the Bee Gee court Dec. 9 when they meet the Fort Hayes cagers from Columbus, Ohio.

On December 11, a double-header will be played against the Cleveland Diesel Naval Station and the Romulus Air Base Training school from Romulus, Mich. The Grosse Ile Naval Training school will play on the local court on Dec. 13. This will be the Romulus Air Base's second visit as they visited last year and were defeated.

Coach Harold Anderson inaugurated the double-header last season when the Falcons met the Toledo Navy Station team and the Hilsdale College team in the evening.

Twelve service games remain on the schedule highlighted by a home game with Great Lakes Naval Training Station. Thirteen home games remain on the schedule.

Swan Club Holds Initiation

A splash party highlighted the Swan Club initiation last Sunday afternoon as 16 girls were taken in to the exclusive club.

The new members include Barbara Barr, Dorothy Bowers, Naomi Jordahl, Dorothy Luedke, Gerry Otten, Ann Page, Janie Rothe, Gloria Speers, Pat Stark, Harriet Sun, Sue Tonkin, Elinor Winsor, Marg Hamman, Beverly Huntzinger, Jean Pugh, and Ginny McClonlough.

Ann Rothenberger-Huffer is president of the Swan Club with Mary Spooner in the position of vice president, Jeanne Powell acting as treasurer, and Beryl Stevenson taking the minutes.

The initiation took place in the natatorium where games were played in the water. After this the group retired to the lounge in the Women's Building where refreshments were served.

The committee in charge of the initiation and refreshments consisted of Katie Lou Snyder, Ruth Baer, Peg Shetler and Jane Dewar.

Jeanne Powell, Jean Harshman, Esther Davis and Katie Lou Snyder were in charge of the Swan Club try-outs.

The club is planning to give a spring pageant. Jean Harshman is in charge with Joan Burns, Jane Dewar, Mary Ann Bell, Esther Davis and Beryl Stevenson helping out.

Waiter: "How did you find your steak, sir?"

Voluntary Swim Team Practice

Marine Jim Warrick leads his swimming team into the fourth week of practice. The former North Carolina College Coach has gathered together a group of fellows who have voluntarily worked with each other to form a team regardless of the fact that they are not excused from their regular physical education course.

Faced with the problem of inexperience in college swimming and schedule difficulties Coach Warrick made his first cut of the team last week.

The team now includes free stylists: from the Marines; Charles Joyce, Joe Eubank, Bernard Fox, Bernard Hoekstra; from the Navy; Warren Foster and civilian Harold Williams.

Competing for the diving position are Navyman Irving Blackman, Carl Sturtz, Covert McLaughlin and Marine George Fluegel.

Backstrokers are Marine Don McLean and A/S Bill Gallbraith. Breaststrokers are A/S Bill Long and Bob Danforth. Marine Jim Freely is the manager.

Although he has cut the team Coach Warrick would like to have anyone from the Marines, Navy, V-5's and civilians try out for the team.

Christmas Spirit Reigns On Bowling Green Campus

The week-end before Christmas vacation and all 'round the Campus, everyone will be humming Yuletide songs and hustling from one party to another. Perhaps some things have changed, but the Christmas spirit still remains deep in the heart of everyone.

Treble Clef will start things off with their Annual Christmas Concert in the auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Friday evening. The sororities will know "who-has-gone-what" by that time, and the joyous holiday music may well serve as a soothing tonic to jangled nerves.

Saturday night there is a double-header basketball game—the first game beginning at 7 p.m. After the second game, WSGA invites all coeds, servicemen, and civilians to a Christmas nickelodeon in the Recreation Hall.

The WSGA committee planning this affair consists of Marianne Bell, Ardine Gottfried, and Sue Gesling.

Sunday afternoon the Alpha Phi invite all of you to their annual Christmas Tea from 3 to 5 p.m.

Sunday evening at 8:15 p.m. the Messiah will be presented in the Auditorium. You who have attended the presentation in past years know that it is a fitting closing to our 1943 social year!

Home Ec Club Has Holiday Party

The Home Economics club will hold its annual Christmas party in Studio B of the Practical Arts Building tonight at 8 p.m.

Part of the program will consist of a small gift exchange. Mary K. Davis is general chairman for the affair. Assisting her are: refreshments, Mary Herman, Marjorie Hanline; decorations, Mary Holt, Hilda Krill; program, Etheleen Hugli, Analee Lind.

Alpha Tau Omega Plans Activities

The social program of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will include stag parties, formal dances and possibly a Sadie Hawkins Day, according to Ralph Klein, president. This schedule will be very similar in pattern to that carried out by the fraternity in former years and will go a long way toward keeping alive some of our past social traditions.

The present fraternity project is organized serenading and the pledges are undergoing a concentrated program which requires memorization of all the fraternity songs.

Coeds Pledged To Pi Omega Pi

Jean Shaw, Jeanne Powell and Lois Gault were pledged to Pi Omega Pi, national Business Education fraternity Wednesday evening.

Refreshments were served after the regular pledge service.

The pledges will be initiated in Studio B at 5 p.m. Saturday evening. A formal dinner at the Women's Club will follow the initiation service.

Dr. Clare Martin, instructor of chemistry at B.G.S.U., will speak at a Y.M.C.A. meeting to be held in the student room of the Falcon's Nest on Thursday, Dec. 10.

The meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will end at 8:00 p.m., so as to be out in time for the Falcon game at 8:15. Servicemen are invited to attend.

Ex-president of the Norwegian Parliament and of the League of Nations Assembly, C. J. Hambro will discuss "Requirements of Peace" Sunday at the Wood County Public Forum in the Senior High School Auditorium.

Parties, Programs Fill Week's Schedule

Christmas at Bowling Green this year will be a round of parties and programs in the dormitories all over the campus.

The annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" December 12 by a chorus of town and campus people will set the theme for the holiday spirit.

More music and caroling will be furnished at the Treble Clef's program December 10.

The Training School party will include a 10 cent gift exchange of school supplies. This is sponsored by the A.C.E. tonight from 7 till 8 p.m.

The girls at the Woman's Building will have a party December 13 with Christmas caroling around a tree.

Shatzel Hall is giving a formal party after dinner on Monday, December 13, for all of the freshmen women. Jean Smith, chairman for the evening, is planning a program.

Class Attends Russian Ballet

An advanced journalism class accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Currier attended the Russian Ballet Monday evening at the Paramount Theatre in Toledo.

The ballet was presented by the Ballet Theatre and consisted of 125 performers and a symphony orchestra.

The class is studying music and dramatic criticism and is planning to attend a major musical production and a professional dramatic production in Toledo.

Scandinavian Will Speak To Public Forum

The Hon. C. J. Hambro who has served as president of the Norwegian Parliament and of the League of Nations Assembly will discuss "Requirements of Peace" when he appears before the Wood County Public Forum Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Bowling Green Senior High School auditorium.

Dr. Hambro, a native of Gergen, Norway has been active in politics since his early student days. In 1918, as soon as he reached the required age, he was elected a member of the Norwegian Parliament and in 1924 was made president of the Parliament as well as head of the conservative party and chairman of the committee on Foreign Relations. Since 1924, he has represented Norway at the League of Nations and became president of that assembly in 1939.

In addition to his career as statesman and leader in world affairs, Dr. Hambro is also noted as a journalist and as the author of some twenty books. When the first World War broke out, he was editor-in-chief of Norway's leading conservative newspaper "Morgenbladet". He has also served as President of the Associated Press of Norway and as editor-in-chief of the Great Scandinavian Quarterly "Le Nord".

been approved, (1) by the president of the university, (2) by the Student Council.

(f) To pass upon proposed changes in campus organization.

(g) To present petitions and requests of the students to the Administration.

(h) To entertain requests of the Administration to the student body.

(i) To supervise all campus elections.

(j) To formulate and direct freshman regulations of a social nature until the complete organization of the class is effected.

(k) To suppress group activities if inimical to the interest of the student body.

(l) To grant or withhold permission to solicit money from the student body.

(m) To require non-financial aid from any organization under its jurisdiction.

Section 6. The Student Council shall effect its own organization. It shall have at least one regular meeting during each school month.

Article IV ELECTIONS

Section 1. There shall be two regular campus elections, a spring election and a fall election, the dates of which are to be set by the Student Council.

Section 2. The class officers (president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer) of next year's sophomore, junior, and senior classes shall be elected in the spring.

Section 3. The officers of the freshman class shall be elected in the fall.

Section 4. Class presidents shall begin their term of office in the fall.

Article V VACANCIES

Section 1. Vacancies occurring in the Student Council shall be filled by the body in whose representation the vacancy occurs.

Rushing Closes Friday With Freshmen Signing

The series of formal and informal parties that has constituted this year's women's fraternity rushing season will be brought to a close Friday when freshman women will sign their preference slips by 2 p.m. in the office of the Dean of Women.

Each sorority will submit its bid list to Dean Audrey Kenyon Wilder not later than noon, Thursday. Freshmen who receive notices that one or more sororities have bid for their membership lists will be composed accordingly and delivered at the sorority houses at 5:30 p.m. Friday.

Formal invitations will be issued at once by each sorority and rushees will indicate acceptance by going to the sorority house at 7:30 p.m. for informal pledging.

Rushing this year has been carried out in four stages. The first stage was a period of no rushing during the first 12 weeks of school. Freshmen had opportunities to visit the sororities only for the various open house teas.

The second stage consisted of the informal parties, given during the afternoon and evening of the twelfth week. Each sorority was permitted to give two parties. The afternoon parties lasted from 4 to 6 p.m. and the evening parties from 7 to 9 p.m. Rushees were permitted to attend seven of these parties.

The series of formal parties being given this week constitute the third stage of rushing. Rushees accept only three of these invitations. To issue or to accept such an invitation indicates Section 2. Vacancies occurring in class offices shall be filled by appointment by the remaining officers of the class.

Article VI REMOVAL

Section 1. The Student Council shall have the power by an affirmative vote of three-fourths of its members to declare vacant the seat of any member of the Council.

Section 2. If a member of the Student Council is absent for two or more consecutive meetings without sufficient excuse, he is automatically dropped from the Council.

Article VII REFERENDUM

Section 1. Whenever any action taken by the Student Council is considered by any class or other student organization as prejudicial to its interest, such action must, upon receipt of a petition signed by 50 students, be referred to the student body, after announcement thereof has been made in two successive issues of the University paper which immediately follow the receipt of the petition.

Article VIII RECALL

Section 1. A class may recall its Student Council representative or any of its officers, upon presentation to the Student Council of a petition signed by 25 members, serious interest by both sorority and rushee but neither is bound by this action.

The silence period from 9:15 p.m. Thursday to 7 p.m. Friday marks the fourth and final stage. Silence means no communication of any type by any method between sorority and rushee, although speaking when you pass on the campus is permitted, contrary to the belief of many rushees.

the class votes, by a three-fourths majority of those voting at a special election, to recall such representative or officer.

Article IX AMENDMENTS

Section 1. Amendments to this Constitution may be proposed by the Student Council.

Section 2. Amendments to this Constitution may also be proposed by a petition signed by 10 per cent of the members of the student body.

Section 3. The proposed amendment shall be published in two successive issues of the University paper. It shall then be submitted to the student body in either a regular or special election. If the proposed amendment is approved by a majority of those voting, it shall be declared a part of this Constitution.

Article X BY-LAWS

Section 1. The Student Council shall have power to pass any by-laws to carry into operation the provisions of this Constitution, provided that such by-laws shall not conflict with this Constitution or any amendment thereto.

Article XI ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW

Section 1. All provisions of this Constitution, amendments thereto, and by-laws thereof, and all action taken under their authority, shall be subject to Administrative review.

Article XII RATIFICATION

Section 1. This Constitution shall go into effect immediately upon its having been approved by the Administration, published in two successive issues of the Bee Gee News, and passed by a majority of those students voting at a special election.
